The advent of new technologies has been an impetus for rapid development in several industries. These recent advances push industry leaders to infuse new innovations into their various systems and processes. Global Implications of Emerging Technology Trends is a critical scholarly resource that examines major breakthroughs within technological areas on a global level. Featuring coverage on a broad range of topics, such as biometrics, nanotechnology, and wireless technologies, this book is geared towards academicians, practitioners, and researchers seeking current research manuscripts of the evolution of information science and technology.

An index to library and information science literature.

Understanding Diversity Through Novels and Picture Books goes beyond the usual multicultural lists and looks at the wide expanse of the diversity of cultures and lifestyles impacting children's lives in America today and identifies good books to have in library collections for them to read. Included are annotated titles with discussion questions from all of the identified cultures and subcultures and annotated teacher/librarian resources, print- and Web-based, as well as an excellent list of topical annotated journal articles. Grades 4-8. Knowles and Smith examine current research on diversity and multiculturalism. They move away from the traditional aspects of multicultural education (food, fashion, folktales, festivals, and famous people) to a focus on novels and picture books, and realistic fiction to show children with diversity issues that there are others in similar positions. The issue of authenticity (whether the author of the book should be of that culture or merely familiar with the culture) is discussed. Topics include: Ethnicities (Asian, Latino/Hispanic, African/Black, Native American, White/European, Bi/Multiracial), Exceptionalities, Ageism, Socioeconomic Status, Sexual Orientation, Gender, and Religion. The authors provide this valuable resource for libraries, schools, and communities that wish to utilize literature to help diverse students walk in the shoes of others and to match books to children and young adults to heighten understanding and acceptance. Grades 4-8.

Rooted in the creative success of over 30 years of supermarket tabloid publishing, the Weekly World News has been the world's only reliable news source since 1979. The online hub www.weeklyworldnews.com is a leading entertainment news site.

Creating and Promoting Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries describes specific ways that public librarians and other professionals can promote lifelong learning by planning and implementing Information Literacy Instruction (ILI). This book includes chapters on planning for instruction, using teaching methods, teaching with and about technology, and combining elements of ILI with more traditional public library programs, services, and activities. It is the sequel to Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries: Principles, Programs, and People.

Men's Health magazine contains daily tips and articles on fitness, nutrition, relationships, sex, career and lifestyle.

1921 Françoise Frenkel, een jonge Poolse vrouw die beziel is door Franse literatuur, begint een boekhandel in Berlijn: La Maison du Livre. 1939 Het werken in Berlijn wordt haar onmogelijk gemaakt. Ze vlucht naar Parijs, om daar opnieuw een boekhandel te beginnen. 1943 Ze moet wederom op de vlucht. Via Parijs gaat ze naar respectievelijk Avignon en Vichy. Uiteindelijk trekt ze via Grenoble de Alpen in, naar Zwitserland. Onderweg houdt ze een dagboek bij, dat ze omwerkt tot een boek. 1945 Bij een kleine Zwitserse uitgeverij verschijnt Niets om het hoofd op neer te leggen. Het doet geen stof opwaaien, kort na de oorlog is er weinig behoefte aan dit soort verhalen. 2015 In Frankrijk wordt het boek herontdekt, en - met een voorwoord van Patrick Modiano - een groot succes. Niets om het hoofd op neer te leggen wordt inmiddels erkend als een verhaal met klassieke allure over een vrouw die door middel van haar liefde voor literatuur aan het noodlot weet te ontkomen.

The "Bibliographic Guide to Education" lists recent publications cataloged during the past year by Teachers College, Columbia University, supplemented by publications in the field of education cataloged by The Research Libraries of The New York Public Library, selected on the basis of subject headings. Non-book materials, including theses, are included in this "Guide," with the exception of serials. All aspects and levels of education are represented in this "Guide," including such areas as: American elementary and secondary education, higher and adult education, early childhood education, history and philosophy of education, applied pedagogy, international and comparative education, educational administration, education of the culturally disadvantaged and physically handicapped, nursing education and education of minorities and women. Also well covered are the administrative reports of departments of education for various countries and for U.S. states and large cities. The Teachers College collection covers over 200 distinct educational systems. Works in all languages are included. The "Bibliographic Guide to Education" serves in part as an annual supplement to the "Dictionary Catalog of the Teachers College Library, Columbia University" (G.K. Hall & Co., 1970) and Supplements ("First Supplement," 1971; "Second Supplement," 1973; "Third Supplement," 1977).

Every industry professional aspires to one day see his or her work in this book.

Includes, beginning Sept. 15, 1954 (and on the 15th of each month, Sept.-May) a special section: School library journal, ISSN 0000-0035, (called Junior libraries, 1954-May 1961). Also issued separately.

The "Directory covers approximately 17,800 music publishers from 99 countries with full addresses, telephone numbers, fax numbers, e-mail addresses and URLs.

Discusses the history, rules, and customs of the very different traditions followed by the two centers of Hebrew cataloging: the Library of Congress and the Jewish National and University Library in Jerusalem. Explores the differences between American and Israeli automation of the Hebraica library, and in particular, the two major bibliographic networks with vernacular Hebrew cataloging capability: American's RLIN and Israel's ALEPH-based academic library network. Analyzes the potential for exchanging Hebrew bibliographic data. Annotation copyrighted by Book News, Inc., Portland, OR Updated and expanded to embrace new developments in the electronic environment and new emphases on multicultural and female influences and accomplishments, the fourth edition (3rd ed., 1988) of this guide to humanities information sources includes 1,250 major entries. Chapters cover general humanities, philosophy, religion, visual arts, performing arts, and language and literature. Organized as previous editions, the volume provides one chapter on sources and another on access for each area. The "sources" chapters have in-depth descriptions of both print and electronic tools; the "access" chapters relate to finding and retrieving information. With more entries, more lesson plan sites, and an improved organization, Miller's annual is better than ever! Offering you access to current, accurate, useful information about the Internet, it helps you find the online resources you need-quickly and easily! New sections have been added-for national curricular standards, professional associations, and early childhood and special education sites-and there are now new topic sections for many new areas, including bats, whale songs, prehistoric man, and the Sixties. New sites designed to help students with homework and Web pages by and for school librarians are just some of the other new features. And don't forget, updates to the listings are now posted on the Libraries Unlimited Web site. With its curriculum-driven organization, simple instructions, and a wealth of information, this guide is the best Internet directory available for educators. (All previously listed sites have been updated, annotated, and double-checked for accuracy.) All Levels.

This reader, based on a symposium at the Department of Sculpture, Transmedial Space, University of Art and Design, Linz, poses profound questions about contemporary sculpture.
